

An illustration featuring two stylized cartoon characters. On the left is an orange character with a simple black outline and a smiling face. On the right is a blue character with a wide, open-mouthed smile and small tufts of hair. They are connected by a red speech bubble line. A white speech bubble containing the text "One asks" is positioned above the orange character, while another white speech bubble containing the text "The other one answers" is positioned below the blue character.
